How to go from YorkU to SpaceX

ABSTRACT

Matt will present a brief summary of his experience during his time at York and his career in the six years since graduation. He will describe the process of building a career in software development that has taken him to SpaceX in California. He will also present an overview of SpaceX, including current vehicles and ongoing developments.

BIOGRAPHY

Matt Hughes graduated from York's Space Engineering program in 2009. Since graduation, he went on to start a career in software development. After over three years at Toronto-based web startup Top Hat, he re-joined the space industry at SpaceX in California.
